At Gov. Geary's sober reception, in his residence in Harrisburg lately, whereat no wines or liquors were served, it is sneeringly temarked that "at the present percea, it is sheeringly remarked that at the present prices of liquor, the plan affords a great saving." Gen. Genry's strict temperance is proverial and exemplary. In the most trying campaigns of the war, he was one of the few commanders who never tasted liquor. It is, therefore, easy for him to make temperance the rule of the Governor's mansion at Harrisburg.

Napoleon was driving, the other day, from the Tuiteries to the Exposition building, in his wagounette, attended by Gen. Fleury, when he was stopped in the Rue de Greneile by the wretched and almost impassable condition of the streets. He got down, discussed the state of things with some householders who were standing at their shop doors, and, after hearing all their complaints, drove home. The next morning the street was invaded by 500 workmen, and in a few hours everything was restored to rights.

CIVIL COURTS.

PARTITION BY PAROL.

Deborah Wood art. John J. Fleet and others.

This is a suit to decide the interest of the plaintiff in a deceased brother's estate. She, with two brothers, terived an estate in fee from her father in some 200 acros of land on Long Island, but released her portion to her wo brothers. They divided the property, and Daniel regard his buff of one portion to his brother and occupied

TOBLY CHARGES.

Chade Bedin at James B. Bratz.

This action was brought upon a promissory note or $3,000, dated May 12, 1837, made by the defendant inot, per and to be own order two months after date, and indorsed by him and the defendant Montjoy, and of which it was claimed the plaintiff was the owner and holder for value.

The defense was that the note was given upon an illegal agreement between Brady and Montjoy, of which the plaintiff had notice. The illegal agreement was that Montjoy should use his personal influence with the street. Commissioner of New-York City to procure the silowance and payment of certain claims of Brady for work done against the City of New-York.

The cause came on for trial before Mr. Justice Sutherland, and a jury at the New-York Circuit in November, 1858, and the defendant had the verdict.

On the trial the following case was disclosed:

Brady had a claim against the City of New-York under a contract for grading Forty-sixth-st., for over $20,000, which was disputed and unsettled. Prier to the giving of the note Montjoy applied to Brady to employ him to assist in the settlement of said accounts, and represented that he (Montjoy) had such influence with the then street Commissioner as would enable him to procure a favorable settlement and allowance of Brady's claim, and that without the assistance of Montjoy the allowance could not be procured. After several interviews the agreement was made that Montjoy should use his influence with the Street Commissioner to procure the allowance of Brady's claim, and the note was given upon this consideration.

This it was claimed, was an illegal consideration, and consideration.

This, it was claimed, was an illegal consideration, and the Court charged "that a note given to procure improper influence to be used with a public officer was void. That any influence would be improper if the parties contemplated or intended an influence arising out of the reliense existing between the employed and the officer, and illat the jury must determine from the evidence whether such an influence was designed or contemplated between the defendant and Montfoy, and that it was immaterial whether the consideration of the note was illegal, or whether it was without consideration; in either case, the plaintiff could not recover, if he had notice of the illegality or want of consideration at the time he received 8.

On both of these charges, and some other technical matters, the plaintiff appeals, claiming that they are too broad—that the rule as to using influence on legislators or public officers only applied to "personal influence," and not to the influence of known counsel; and that the second charge was so framed as to include both subjects, when they should have been disjoined, and that, therefore, if either proposition was wrong, it did away with the whole.

The Court reserved its decision.

OPEN BOARD OF BROKERS-St P. M.

The extremes of the day were 185/@138.

WEDNESDAY, April 10-P. M. Gold sold at 158, under the unfavorable quotations for 5-20s in London to-day, and closed at 137;.

Government stocks were steady, and the quotation of 1071 @1071 for new 5-20s was maintained all day. State stocks were barely steady, and large amounts could not have been sold at quotations. The Miscellaneous and Railway shares were unsteady and lower prices established on the entire list. The losses in that direction are large, and operators for an advance have been badly hurt. At the decline there were no strong buyers, and the market appears to be abandoned to weak dabblers, trading on the fluctuations of the hour. At the Second Board and afterward upon the street there was a fresh panic, in which cash stocks were thrown overboard freely, and large contracts made for future delivery. Persons lending upon railway shares are becoming more cautious about margins, and much more partie ular about persons to whom loans are made. At the close, under purchases by the bears to cover, prices were higher, North-West Preferred advancing 2 per cent from the lowest point. The market is a good deal disturbed, and is only resting temporarily at the quotations: New-York Central, 984 2984; Erie, 532 2 531; Reading, 981@987; Michigan Southern, 667@67; North-Western, 30 2 307; do. Preferred, 59 2592; Rock Island, 861 2862; Fort Wayne, 891 290.

A failure of magnitude was reported among the outside operators, from lesses in Eric and Cleveland and Pittsburgh.

Money is quoted at 7 per cent on call, and in good demand. Stock houses do not make up their necounts very promptly. Commercial paper sells slowly at 7271 for the best, and 8210 for second slowly at 7a7; for the best, and 8a10 for second grades.

Merchants complain of sluggish trade, and are obliged, as in old times, to east about for means to meet their daily maturing obligations. Long engagements are not popular in any direction, and a comfortable bank balance is considered better than any property at current values. Exchange is firmer.

Light for the best, and 8a10 for second grades.

BRICKS are firm and in fair demand at $11 a$12 for Common Hard, and $1 50 a$18 for Croton, and $75 for Philadelphia Front.

The Directors of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad Company have determined to call a meeting of shareholders to consider the propriety of making an issue of stock to represent a large amount of earnings used in construction. The property, from an exclusive use of earnings in construction, is stated to be in fine condition, and able to earn in future regular dividends upon the old and proposed new shares. It is out of debt, and its friends are sanguine of regular dividends now that it is operating for itself, and not with a view of consolidation with another line. Pacific Mail continues steady, on telegrams from Albany that the report of the Investigating Committee would be favorable. People are looking with some curiosity for its appearance, and are anxious to know how far the committee have examined into the real state of the concern, the character of its loans, condition of its cash assets, &c. Lumping statements of forty millions ($40,000,000) for the value of the property, and eight millions ($8,000,000) of cash assets will not be considered satisfactory, unless the report shows an acute and vigorous investigation, and a complete statement of the items from which these figures are obtained. Neither would it be well for the public to take the report of the Committee for granted, as searching questions, which must be answered, will be asked by parties who are opposed to

The editor of The Bank Note Reporter publishes the following "Matured Financial Ideas:"

The resumption troubles of England after her 21 years of suspension are often quoted in canvassing the question of resumption here. "History repeats itself," say some; to which we reply: "The history of the past 50 years is no repetition of any former period of the world; therefore the repeating theory is of no account. Those who have never seen a steamboat, a railroad, a telegraph, a sewing-machine, a gaz-light, or a kerosene light, are excussable in not seeing that the world moves—in not seeing that modern history, the history of our generation, is sai generis, and not the repetition of anything since the deluge."

The debt of England at the close of the war was $4,000,000,000. Ours is five-eighths only of that amount. In population and wealth we are three times what England was then. In short, England owed $363 to each soul of population; we owe $76 to each.

The great difference, however, after all, between the English debt then and our debt now, so far as resumption is concerned, lies in the quantity of the precious metals available at the two periods. For the century from 1150 to 1850 the annual product of gold and silver from all the mines of the world was but $83,00,000. Now the annual product is more than $200,000,000.

In August, 1866, our Government commissioned J. Ross Brown to make a report on the mineral resources of the States and Territories west of the Rocky Mountains. The report is a book of 230 pages. In his introductory letter to Secretary McCulloch he gives the product of gold and silver from 1866 as follows:

California. $25,000,000 [Oregon 8,000,000]

Moutand 18,000,000 [Oregon 8,000,000]

Idaho 17,000,000 Other sources

Colorado 17,000,000 Stoc,000,000

Mr. Brown then remarks:

"Assuming the estimate above given to be approximately correct, it will be seen that the States and Territories on the Pacific slope produce annually unward of tories on the Pacific slope produce annually unward of the precious metals; a quantity more than currency.

Speculators, debtors, and all interested opponents of a speedy resumption, would do wisely to pray and petition for an instantaneous reaumption.

SOUTH-WEST PACIFIC RAILBOAD .- We learn from Missouri that the construction of this road is going on very favorably. The trains already run in effect to the Gasconade River, though the delivery of freight is still at Ford's, two miles this side the river. The Company itself is building the bridge over the Gasconade, of trestie work, which it is understood will be but a temporary structure, but will well serve the purposes of construc or and of traffic for a time. Work is going on for 54 miles beyond the river, under two contracts, under one of which the road is to be completed to Lebanon in July. Tenders of cash funds have been freely made to the Company lately in sums from $100,000 to $500,000, coupled with the condition of transferring their account to St. Louis, or other point, but it is understood that while receiving pecuniary support from that city in the enterprise, they will nevertheless continue the same financial policy which has hitherto been observed, under which the proceeds of the sales of the Company's bonds at a fixed rate have been disbursed on account of construc-

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

There are cattle sales nearly every day in the week, for no sooner did the market close at One-hundredth-st. on Monday than it opened at Hudson City on Tuesday, with about 500 bullocks on sale, most of which were disposed of to butchers. About 800 came in to those yards Wednesday, making 1.294 for the two days. They were all sold, or in a fair way of selling, with the exception of 71 head of superior cattle, which the owner offers at One-hundredth-st. to-day. The quality of the Hudson City stock was above the average, and prices very much as reported on Monday—a little less on good stock. Most of the sales were much at 15% lide, with a few at 17e, and 174c. for g small number. It may be remarked that the tip-top droves are nearly always taken to One-hundredth-st. for sale. J. T. Alexander's 385 fair $\frac{1}{2}$ cwt. Ill. steers were running out at 15% lide, on 6 cwt., with a lot of thinish 6 cwt. cattle at 14% lide. Shift at 16% lide. Trade upon the whole was good, but ewners were disappointed in not getting 25 additional cars of cattle detained by the washing or giving way of a bridge near Dunkirk. The train arrived too late for selling the stock, and much of it was run to the National Yards. It is now officially announced that no yardage is charged on cattle sold at Hudson City. It is expected that there will be a large number of cattle on sale to-day at One-hundredth-st, and at Communipaw. Sheep have advanced more than $\frac{1}{2}$ e. $\frac{1}{2}$ not, where they were sold about as fast as received. Four cars of them were clipped thic stock, pretty good; one lot, of 174 fat sheep, 105 m, without their fleeces, bringing $\frac{1}{2}$ c, being extra fine; while 373 head, 85 m, brought 8c. Two cars wool sheep, 85 m, were sold at $\frac{1}{2}$ with which was the price thing obtained for Wate's extra fine; 114 $\frac{1}{2}$ One o
